England's Traditions

In a young and new country like Canada, and especially when the population is of a most cosmopolitan character, a regular polyglot of language and races, there is apt to develop a feeling akin to contempt for the historical past and those traditions of older lands which have been handed down from generation to generation and become woven into and a part of the national character. There is liable to be an impatience with all that savors of precedent and a sense of reliance upon long tried principles and policies which have brought the race to where it is today, enlarged its freedom and protected its liberties.

Granted that it would be a mistake for any new country to supinely rely upon and slavishly follow in the footsteps of older lands and their historical past; admitting that only by new departures, by blazing new trails, by a courageous initiative, can there be progress—it is none the less true that in the forward march the safe, the prudent course is to retain a strong anchor in the past; to press onward, not by the adoption of revolutionary methods, but through wise evolution, profiting by the mistakes and lessons of the past, but inspired by the glorious traditions and achievements of our forefathers and guided by their ripened experience and wisdom.

That made England the bulwark of the Allied cause throughout the long drawn out years of the Great War? Why was it that all Germany feared England more than all her other enemies combined? And why is it that in these trying first years of peace in a world turned topsy-turvy it is to England the whole world looks to carry the major portion of the world's burden and work out the world's salvation?

It is not that the men and women of the English race are so much more clever than those of other races; it is not that they are, taken as a whole, intellectually superior; it is not that they are gifted above all other peoples. No, it is not because of these things. But it is because there is grounded in the people of England—not merely those now living within the confines of England, but in all parts of the world—the great traditions of England, the inspiration of England's literature, the lives, the words, the deeds of England's great men. It is such traditions as that established by England's sailors, "Women and children first," and "the captain was the last to leave the sinking ship," that has maintained untarnished England's mercantile service and made her naval supremacy no threat to the world. "England never knows when she is beaten," impatiently declared one of her greatest enemies in a bygone age, and that tradition remained with the soldiers and sailors of Greater England throughout the Great War, even in the darkest days, impelling them on to snatch victory from the very jaws of defeat.

Strong, stern, unimpeachable in battle, England is ever chivalrous and brave but defeated foe. An Englishman admires a good fighter and is the first to admit his good qualities, whether it be on the battlefield or the field of sport. English sport the world over is a synonym for "clean." "Play fair" has become a national characteristic.

Down through the centuries England, while tenacious of her own rights and privileges, has frankly recognized the rights and privileges of others. Even when an autocratic sovereign has on occasion done wrong and persisted in it, the real heart of England has opposed that wrong. In a word it is a tradition of England to be just, and even those who condemn some of her policies in past centuries must, in truth, recognize that in those less enlightened years England was in advance of other countries, plodding on toward a brighter, better day.

From these tenets of national honor, when England gives her word, all nations recognize that she will keep it. Belgium, relied upon the word of England in 1914, and did not rely in vain. Germany, alone, failed to realize that England's pledges are made to be kept and not treated as scraps of paper. Only recently, during the world-wide discussion of the question of renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, Lloyd George again stressed all critics when, after pointing out how Japan had faithfully fulfilled her obligations during the Great War and made possible England's great effort in France without the handicap of guarding the Pacific, he asked: "Shall England, having accepted this assistance when it was so urgently needed, turn round and refuse to maintain the mutual obligation now that England does not require it?" Englishmen emphatically answered, no.

England's traditions are the source of England's strength and England's greatness. They are the warp and woof of the national character. While out them in these days of world upheaval England and the British Empire might easily be rent asunder and go down in the oblivion of other great empires of the past. No country can truly call itself a nation until it has achieved great traditions. Despite all the horror, suffering and loss of the Great War, it has at least conferred this benefit on Canada that it has given our people one great tradition, one that will live forever and will leave an indelible impression on all future generations of Canadians.

Accredited Herds

Sixty Thousand Dollars a Month Has Been Spent in This Work.

Since September, 1919, the "accredited herds" plan has been partly in operation in the Dominion. The system originated among breeders in the United States who had recognized for a long time the serious inroads which tuberculosis had been making in their herds and in 1917 the Federal Government adopted their suggestion.

tions. There are in Canada at present about 17 duly accredited herds, that is, herds which have undergone the three semi-annual tuberculin tests and have been found free. Their distribution among the provinces is significant. British Columbia has 7, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan 2 each, and Quebec has 4. For the last three months an expenditure at the rate of $60,000 a month has been made on this work, but it is understood that owing to the general financial stringency, the work cannot be continued at this rate.

Fighting Grasshoppers

Tremendous Amount of Material Used in Waging War Against Plague.

The fight against the grasshoppers for 1921 has been finished in Saskatchewan, but a still greater battle over a larger area is in sight for next year, according to officials of the department of agriculture. The total amount of materials mixed into poison this summer is estimated to include 3,024 tons of bran; 100 carloads of sawdust; 361,233 pounds of arsenic; 10,100 pounds of paris green; 92,360 gallons of molasses; 895 barrels of salt.

Fish In Abundance.

Abundance of fish is reported from all points on the southern portion of the Labrador coast and numerous schooners are returning to Newfoundland ports with full cargoes. It is also anticipated that the bank fishery on the west coast of Newfoundland will be the best for many years.

You May Have Kidney Trouble and Not Know It

If your back aches and you suffer from dragging pains, it is an evidence your kidneys may not be acting just right. "What a relief it is to be cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They contain both Mandrake and Butternut and act very beneficially upon the liver and kidneys." I was bothered a great deal with my kidneys, but got quick relief from Dr. Hamilton's Pills. My trouble manifested itself by pain in the back and by constant headache. I quickly recovered after using a few boxes of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They brought me health, strength and vigor. Rye In Drought Areas

Expected There Will Be One Million Acres Sown in Rye This Year.

M. A. Brown, of the Western Canadian Colonization Association, who has returned from a tour of Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta, where he took part in the campaign for increased fall rye acreage in the drought areas, stated that it is expected there will be one million acres sown in rye this year. Fully 50 per cent of the farmers in these districts will seed a portion of their land to this crop. Results of farmers who have tried rye are all in favor of the crop for the drought areas, he said.

GOOD HEALTH CAN BE YOURS

If Your Blood Supply Is Kept Rich
and Red.

It is a waste of time and money to fight merely the signs of disease; in the long run you are probably worse off than when you started. What is far more important is that you should intelligently examine the various symptoms and trace the cause. When you remove the cause, the illness will be yours. For example, anemic people often endure months of suffering while treating its symptoms, such as indigestion, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and exhaustion after any small effort.

The apparent stomach and heart troubles are generally nothing more than the result of an insufficient supply of pure blood. This anemic state may have followed some previous illness, or an attack of influenza or it may have arisen from overwork, worry or too little fresh air.

To obtain good health the simplest and proper course is to build up the blood, but to do this you must select a reliable remedy with a reputation upon which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills enrich the blood which carries nourishment to all the organs of the body and enables them to do the work nature expects of them. Thousands of men and women have proved the value of this medicine. One of these is Mrs. T. Flynn, R.R. No. 1, Erinville, Ont., who says: "Last spring I got into a badly run-down condition. I had no energy; work left me exhausted, and the least exertion would leave me feeling quite violently. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to give them a trial. I bought a half dozen boxes. I had not been taking the pills long when I felt a decided improvement in my health and by the time I had used the six boxes I could do my housework with ease. I strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people."

You can get these pills through any drug store, or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It Certainly Delivers The Goods, Declares Manitoba Merchant

"Tanlac has made such a big change in me that I feel like an entirely different man," said Chas. W. Cohen, well-known business man, residing at Stockdale, Man.

"The medicine has put me on my feet in the very best of health, and I am only too glad to give it my highest endorsement." For three years I was in very bad health and didn't know what it was to feel right. Everything I ate seemed to sour in my stomach and I had an uncomfortable bloated up feeling that lasted for hours at a time.

"I couldn't sleep soundly, could scarcely eat a thing, was going down rapidly in weight and my work was just a drag to me. I was nervous and restless, scarcely had any strength or energy, and, in fact, wasn't myself at all.

"When I read the statement of a man who had gotten rid of troubles like mine by taking Tanlac, I decided to try it myself. Well, six bottles have fixed me up so fine that I eat good and hearty of just everything I want now, and never feel a sign of distress. I have regained all my lost weight and strength and can say for Tanlac that it certainly delivers the goods."

"Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere."

Earth Collided With Comet

Planet Believed to Have Passed Through Comet's Tail on August 8th.

Announcement is made at the Koenigsstuhl Observatory, in Heidelberg, Germany, that the earth passed through the tail of a comet on the night of August 8.

At sunset on August 7, a bright object was observed near the sun by W. W. Campbell, director of Lick Observatory, which is located near San Jose, California. Five persons saw the celestial object, and reports from the observatory indicated that experts there believed it might be the nucleus of a bright comet. "It would appear probable that this identification was correct, in view of the foregoing report from Germany."

Asthma Doesn't Wear Off Alone.
Do not make the mistake of waiting for asthma to wear away by itself. Home Bread Making Suggestions as to Requirements to Secure the Best Results.

Bread-making is an art not nearly so extensively practiced in the household as in bygone days. In urban districts it is so little practiced that home-made bread has come to be regarded as a luxury. The reason is not far to seek. Trouble is avoided, and professional bakers turn out an article of good quality generally, and at a price which is excessive. If the cost would be if made by the housewife or the cook. And then the baker has facilities that the housekeeper has not. For instance, one of the main difficulties encountered when bread is being made in the home is the lack of a place where the dough can be kept at suitable and even temperature throughout the whole period of fermentation. Relative to this fact, Dr. C. E. Saunders, the Dominion Cerealist, in a bulletin recently issued at Ottawa on "Wheat, Flour and Bread" says that where bread is made very often it would be advisable to construct a special fermenting box or cupboard, where the temperature can be maintained at between 80 and 90 degrees. For themselves, the bakers say that where bread is made very often it would be advisable to construct a special fermenting box or cupboard, where the temperature can be maintained at between 80 and 90 degrees. Once the process of fermentation has started the dough must not be allowed to become either chilled or overheated. A little butter, hard or other shortening reduces the toughness without detracting from the flavor. Sugar should be used in great moderation. Dr. Saunders goes fully into the subject and quotes methods that he recommends for home bread-making, which he says is undoubtedly cheaper than the product of the bakeries, particularly in the winter, when no special fire has to be made.

Flies and Colors

The House Fly Seems to Have Color Preference.

If you want to make your room attractive to flies, paper it in bright yellow. They like that color best.

They do not seem to care about blue, green or orange, one way or the other. Red they markedly dislike.

House flies are our most intimate companions and everything that can be learned about them is worth knowing. Their color preferences have been ascertained by recent elaborate experiments.

Catarhal Conditions

Catarh is a local disease greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. It therefore requires constitutional treatment. HALT! Memorial to British Heroism.
Lieutenant-Colonel Hunter Weston, who was recently delegated to investigate, has recommended that the British memorial at Gallipoli be erected on an eminence five hundred yards northeast of the Hell's Lighthouse. This site will overlook the scene of one of the most memorable episodes of the British ship Clyde in the gallant endeavor to land troops.

SHE TOOK HER MOTHER'S ADVICE

Health because she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Keswick, Sask.—"My mother has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she is now in the best of health. I have tried many other remedies but they did not seem to do me any good. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and used the Sensitive Wash also Dr. Brown's Capsules and Prescriptions and am much better in every way. I am willing for you to use my letter as a testimonial as I recommend your medicines." — Mrs. IRENE NARZON, Keswick, Sask.

It is not always in business that a woman is forced to give up her own account of ill health. It is quite as often the women who do their own work at home. When backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, when sleep has been driven from the eyes, when you are nervous and blue the one great help for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Duffield School Fair.

A most successful School Fair was held at Duffield on Saturday, Sept. 3, under the auspices of Duffield U.F.W.A.
The enterprising women of the district deserve great credit for organising this, the first School Fair.

The schools taking part
were Smithfield, Duffield,
White Whale, and Hansen's Corners.

The exhibits were numerous
and of a high quality.
The vegetables were entered as a collection, by the different pupils. Wheat, oats and barley, in sheaves, were an excellent sample of what the district could produce. The cooking and sewing would have done credit to an agricultural fair.

The class-room work was well up to standard, and the district is indeed fortunate to have teachers who can instruct the children so proficiently.

The livestock showed that the boys and girls, by feeding and handling stock, were acquiring a good foundation in the science of farming. The co-operation of parents in this branch of school fair work is urged by all who have the future prosperity of our district at heart.

The pupils showed great interest in their Fair, and some of their elders could well afford to take an example from the children and show the same enthusiasm in their Agricultural Fair. It is to be hoped that this is only the first of many school fairs
to be held at Duffield.

The judges were Mrs R E
Wood; R B Brooks, School
Inspector; and M B McColl,
Agriculture Representative,
all of Stony Plain.

Agricultural Directors Meet.

The Directors of the Stony Plain Agricultural Society
met in the Town Hall Thursday last, with President
Washburn in the chair.

There was some discussion of the recent Fair, and the chairman invited suggestions
as to improvements which could be made.

The new horse stable was under discussion, and a few defects in the manner of its layout were pointed out.

Several of those present remarked on the manner in which the judging of both the horse and cattle classes was done. An effort will be made to have the judging of the live stock begin at nine o'clock in the morning, so that visitors to the Fair may have the benefit of seeing those animals which the judges have awarded prizes
to.

Another change recommended was to have the beef cattle judged after the dairy cattle, so that the former will be in the ring when the larger number of patrons are present
on the grounds.

It is probable that, at the next Fair, all the horse judging will be done in the vicinity of the new horse barn and hopes are expressed that a new horse ring will be made there.

"Rule 4—all exhibitors must be members of the Society"—a law enforced for the first time at the recent Fair—came in for a goodly share of adverse criticism during the course of the Fair, so it is said, and it is probable the rule will be so amended, to encourage the showing of exhibits.

"Rule 21—When only one entry is made in a class, the award shall be second prize."
This was the One Big Conplaint from, and the cause of several painful surprises to,
Circuit exhibitors and several others, on August 17. The subject elicited considerable discussion at this meeting,
with the result that the matter was passed on the annual meeting of the members, with

A Grain Car for Every Farmer

The Dominion Department of Railways sends out assurance that the Government Railways will be in much better position to handle the grain crop this fall than they were last year. The statement is timely, and if the event verifies the promise, there will be a general jubilation along the National lines by grain growers who wish to ship their grain in car lots.

ered extends from Carstairs

rie, Spirit River and Peace River in the Northwest, and easterly to St. Paul des Metis,

a recommendation that it be changed.

A suggestion was made,
and will be acted on, that,
at succeeding Fairs, all stock on the grounds be formed into a parade on the afternoon of the second day of the Fair.

Another recommendation made was regarding the present cattle enclosures; and these will be replaced by stalls.

Owing to the large number of entries in the Poultry Department in recent years, the judging at the next Fair, in this section, will commence on the first day and continued on the second day.

Strong representations will be made to Stony Plain Town Council, to have a picket fence erected along in front of the grand stand, to prevent patrons at the Fair from encroaching on the track re-

being run.

Threshers' Fees.

A largely-attended meeting
of threshermen of the district was held Saturday evening, in the Royal, with F Wocakos
in the chair, and John Kot-scherofsky acting as secretary. Considerable discussion took place on the question of the rates to be charged for threshing grain the coming season. It was finally agreed to set the rate at 5c for oats, 6c for barley, and 8c for wheat. The rate to be paid for help will be $3.50 a day.

Since the proposed rates to be charged have become known, considerable kicking is being done by farmers who will be asked to pay these rates, and it is probable a meeting of the disgruntled ones will be held, to fix the rates the farmers are willing to pay for having their grain threshed.

Low Rate on Potatoes

points will be in effect for the International Court Of Justice Promises Well

Speculation Ripe as to Probable Choice of the Council and Assembly.

Geneva.—By a resolution adopted by the council of the League of Nations, that body will assume control of stipulations in the treaties with Hungary and Rumania regarding the reports of minorities in the territories which changed their sovereignty.

Chief interest in the work of the council centres for the moment upon the international court of justice, which is regarded as promising better results than any other section of the league thus far. Speculation has begun as to the probable choice by the council and assembly of the eleven judges from among about one hundred names thus far submitted.

Canada has submitted the names of Sir Robert Borden and Rt. Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, for consideration by the league.

As geographical considerations will enter into the election, it is generally assumed the western hemisphere will get two, and perhaps three, judges, one Spanish-speaking from South or Central America, and one each from the United States and Canada. Great Britain is granted one for the United Kingdom and another for the colonies besides Canada.

France will receive one, the Scandinavian countries one, the Slav countries one, and the German-speaking states one, while provision must also be made for the Asiatic states, China, Japan and Siam each having nominated two candidates.

The British candidates are Lord Penlaw, Baron Phillimore, and Sir Henry Eric Richards. South Africa and India also have named candidates.

Getting After Drug Smugglers

Seaplanes Found to be Invaluable in Watching for Offenders.

Ottawa.—Air patrols have been instrumental in frustrating to a large extent at least, the efforts of smugglers to land huge quantities of drugs illegally on the Pacific Coast, according to reports reaching Air Board officials from the customs department at Vancouver, where seaplanes have been placed at the disposal of the customs officials in their fight against the dope smugglers.

In a recent patrol, a longshoreman was arrested while trying to smuggle ashore $1,500 worth of opium from one of the vessels travelling between Canada and the Orient. The circumvention of the drug smugglers is, a game which keeps the customs officials on the watch, as new landing places are tried almost for every shipment and it has been found that the seaplane is the only method of transportation speedy enough to enable the customs department to meet the situation.

War Officially Ended August 31st

Order-in-Council Was Approved By King George.

London.—The King held a Privy Council at Buckingham Palace for the disposal of many matters of business affecting various Government departments.

His Majesty approved an Order-in-Council with respect to the date at which the European war is officially ended. This order provided for the official termination of the war at midnight on August 31st. The order is of general application except in regard to the Ottoman Empire.

This matter, although formal, is of very considerable importance, because many matters of national interest are dependent upon the date at which the war is declared to be at an end.

Population of Scotland Increases.

London.—The preliminary report of the Scottish census just issued shows that the population of Scotland has increased considerably since the last census was taken in 1911. The population is given as 4,882,000, including 2,348,000 males and 2,534,000 females, the gross total representing an increase of 121,000 over 1911.

Want Exchange on Official Basis.

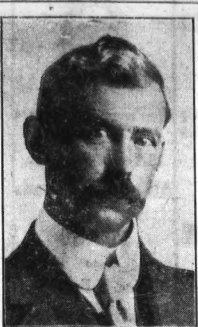

London.—The British Board of Education are advocating that the exchange of teachers between the various parts of the Empire should be established on regular official basis. Hitherto New Zealand is the only Dominion whose Government has given the project direct official support.

Compliments Lloyd George.

Indian Disturbances Subsiding

London.—A Reuter cable from Simla, India, reports that the Moplah disturbances in some districts are subsiding and a favorable turn to the situation is expected shortly. Public-spirited Hindu Christian civilians are taking a hand by beating off the rebels as they appear. This is due to the belief, which is confirmed by local newspapers, that the rising is directed, not merely against the Government, but against all non-Mooslems.

Loans For Stock Raisers

Bank to Aid Cattlemen Over Times of Low Prices.

Ottawa.—Canadian cattle raisers will be carried over the period of abnormally low prices by advances from the banks secured by their stock. This announcement was made by Hon. S. F. Tormie, minister of agriculture.

By arrangement between the Government and the Canadian Bankers' Association, any cattle raiser who asks for a loan and has security in cattle, will be given an advance to obtain fodder. Cattle raisers will thus be enabled to carry their stock instead of getting rid of it at sacrifice prices.

Dr. Tormie stated that the banks will loan all that the cattle are worth, and that every effort will be made to carry the raisers through. Special consideration will be given to the period of the loans in order to assist the cattleman to weather the storm.

It is understood that there is no specific limit placed on the total amount which the banks may advance under the arrangement with the Government.

Printers Return to Prayer.

Toronto.—Printers of Local 91, International Typographical Union, who have been on strike nearly three months for the 48-hour week, offered up prayers in the labor temple for the success of their fight, according to the Toronto Globe, which adds: "It was the first time a trade union turned to prayer in its fight with employers, and it is doubtful if such a scene was ever witnessed in the labor temple before."

Pay Insurance For Auto Fatalities.

New York.—An estimate of $4,900,000 was paid by life insurance companies of the continent in death claims from automobile fatalities during 1920, is published by the Insurance Press. The figures are quoted to show that during the year the automobile caused 12,000 fatalities and a million other injuries.

Italian Ship In Serious Condition.

Naples.—The situation arising from the retention of the steamship Pocahontas in port here since June 8, because of failure to pay for repairs, has become serious because the ship has aboard only five days' rations for its 28 passengers and 253 members of the crew.

Steamboating On Saskatchewan River In The Late Seventies

By O-G-E-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyright)

He was to go in his cabin and remain there, hand the boat over to me, with authority. Failing him doing this, I would return and report. He at once marched me round to the mate and steward and gave orders to this effect and disappeared. I walked on shore very leisurely and busied myself shaking hands with the malcontents. I told them the latest news and generally had a good gossip. Finally I say: "Boys, it is dry talking, and I want a lunch." So I yelled, "Steward," at the top of my voice. Then I said: "You see my friends here, we are hungry, get your waiters busy and serve us up a first-class lunch, and do it quick!"

This was done at once and a merry scene followed. Jokes were made against the Big Knives (Vankers), and broad witnisms of all kinds flew from mouth to mouth. One huge Indian called "Shak-ne-mac" (Mosquito) was the strongest man on board, and evidently a ringleader in the strike. We had all lit our pipes when I issued a challenge, to Shak-ne-mac. We would divide the men, tossing up for first choice, and I bet him two sacks of flour to one that my gang could outwork him in a given space of time. The challenge was accepted.

And though night had come, it made no difference, as there were plenty of flares. Never was freight unloaded and the boat wooded in quicker time. As all the dialogue had been carried on in Cree it was quite a mystery to the officers of the steamer, but I passed the buck to the chief engineer to start at once. I then visited the old man in the cabin and advised him to keep out of the way as much as possible until the men's anger had cooled down. So away they went, I returning to the Rapids at a much more leisurely gait than when we came up.

Poor old Captain W., an able steamboat man, but when trouble of any kind arose he became wild with excitement and his language was unwholesome. The Northcott made his forks of the Saskatchewan all right, but there was not water enough to ascend the Cole's Falls, so the freight was unloaded there and hauled up to Prince Albert, a distance of about 50 miles.

A Runaway Car at Grand Rapids.

Three and a half miles of steel rails crossed the Portage, the height of bed was about midway, and a down grade from there both ways. Small flat cars carrying from three to four tons were used, and males were the motive power. Hanging up from the lake end to the start of the down grade, the mule's single tree was unhooked, the car ran on by its own weight, and the mule trotted behind, the driver regulating the speed by a chain brake. The brake chains were old and in poor shape, though new ones had been ordered but never supplied. Sitting at dinner one day at the fine residence at the upper end of the Portage, with a number of passengers waiting for a steamer up the river, a thundering noise was heard. I dashed out, and there, round the bend, came a heavily loaded car at a furious speed. In charge was a very black French half-breed, with his hair flying in the wind, twisting the brake with all his might. But the chain had broken, so his efforts were fruitless. There was a neat gravel walk from the track right up to off front door, and as poor Berard came to this and noted the big warehouse doors were shut beyond, he gave a wild glance round, and noting me, jumped the car and slid right up the gravel walk, his feet hitting the step hard. He was half unconscious with the excitement and shock, and on examination I found his legs and stern full of gravel pellets, which, as there was a resident doctor, I extracted with a pocket knife, using a log for an operating table.

The car hit some loose freight on the track and dashed through the door of the warehouse. This fortunately was piled up with shovels at that end, so this acted as a buffer and the damage was not extensive. On reporting the matter, new chains were promptly supplied, so there was some good care out of the accident. Mr. Mule had quite a rotten back to his stable at the lower end.

Retribution

It was rather righteous retribution on this man, as some time before this when he had a lot of loose freight piled under tarpaulins at the lower end of the Portage, I caught him with both hands stuck in the shovels in a big bin of butter. The time was about midnight, and his intention evidently was to pull the butter out and fill up the frisk with rubbish, so that it would not check short. I well remember it was fine moonlight and the expression on his face would have made a good picture. One was murderous, then fear, and so on. Firkin and all, I marched him round to a leather tapper where we slept, woke up the men, had his hands tied behind his back, and set a guard over him until morning. He kept begging and praying me for silence and forgiveness. I phoned the chief (for one of our clever mechanics had made a telephone which actually worked, with canteens and wire), to come over, which he did in the morning. We gave the culprit a summary trial, deferred sentence was the verdict, and a careful watch was to be kept on him throughout the summer.

While between his groups I was extracting the gravel and then using a strong mixture of carbolic acid, which no doubt squirted considerably. I reminded him of his fall from honesty and said no doubt the accident happened to him as a special punishment for his crime. For some time after this he kept on his face much to the amusement of his comrades.

Like the car transport, steamboating on the Saskatchewan had its day, and was gradually replaced by rail, the Canadian Pacific railway traversing the river and the Qu'Appelle and Long Lake running up to Prince Albert.

The Hudson's Bay Company, with their far-seeing vision, had sold out part of their interests in 1883 to a transportation company, retaining, however, the right of first shipments over all comers.

Consider Freight Rates Reduction

Ottawa.—Reductions in freight rates were under consideration at a private conference between the Board of Railway Commissioners and representatives of the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk and the Canadian National Railways. Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners, has expressed the view that something must be done to meet the present situation and is hopeful that some immediate action will be taken as a result of the conference. In support of a reduction in freight rates, the view is taken that falling wages and cheaper materials have reduced operating costs.

China's Participation in Conference On Disarmament to be Held in Washington.

Peking.—Interest in China's participation in the conference on disarmament and Far Eastern questions to be held in Washington, is shown by the formation of a number of associations pledged to support this country's cause at the conference. A large number of prominent Chinese have been enrolled in these organizations since the Peking Government accepted President Harding's invitation to send a delegation to the United States capital. The constitutional party of Chekiang Province has issued a call to other provinces to send representatives to Shanghai for a discussion of the Washington conference.

Do you discriminate at the dining table—or are you thoughtless?

In thousands of homes, a "line" is drawn at the breakfast table. Tea or coffee is served for "grown-ups" and Postum for children. But some parents do not discriminate. Tea and Postum, the injurious contents of tea and coffee, seriously retard the development of the delicate nerve tissues in children.

Consequently, instead of rich, satisfying Postum, children are over-stimulated by the drugs in tea and coffee; and so may grow up irritable and nervous. Any doctor can tell you that this is a great evil and should be corrected.

Although some parents feel a certain justification for the personal indulgence in tea or coffee, yet the harm to them may be equally serious. They may take a little longer for the drug in tea and coffee to affect

A Detector Of Carelessness

Machine Registers Bumps and Knocks Given to Freight in Transit.

Rough handling of freight in railway yards or in transit gives rise to many claims by shippers. In some districts this cause is reckoned as producing from 25 to 30 per cent. of all claims for damages. Railroad managers have wrestled with the problem, which is difficult because it is so hard to trace the carelessness to any one train crew.

Now, however, an instrument has been devised to detect the time and place of damage done to moving freight. It is called an "impact resistor," and has been made the subject of exhaustive tests by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. The machine is constructed on the principle of the seismograph, and when placed in a box car will record the time of each shock and also the intensity. By this means the management is able to prove exactly when and where, for example, the reckless switching of freight cars was done.

Gluten Flour

Its Uses and Characteristics Explained in Government Bulletin.

Nearly all of the so-called gluten flours offered to the public are not made from gluten. Such is the frank statement made by Dr. C. E. Saunders, the Dominion Cerealist, in a bulletin entitled "Wheat, Flour and Bread," recently issued by the Experimental Farms Branch at Ottawa. The named used, says Dr. Saunders, is entirely misleading, as these flours often contain a high percentage of starch and are quite unsuitable for diabetic patients. As a rule the gluten flours offered for sale are practically identical with whole wheat and Graham flours. Genuine gluten flour, which is made by washing the starch out of wheat flour and then drying and grinding, is extremely expensive. Gluten bread has no resemblance to ordinary bread and as a substitute for such is an impossibility. Rather less than 50 per cent. of genuine gluten flour can be mixed with ordinary flour, and bread of medium quality be made. Gluten flour can also be used in the production of pancakes, biscuits and other products provided it be mixed with ordinary flour, fine shorts or ground nuts, together with eggs, milk, baking powder, etc. There is, however, no possibility of producing any form of palatable bread, biscuit or cake with a very large proportion of pure gluten flour. Dr. Saunders suggests that physicians would be well advised to take cognizance of these facts and not to expect their patients to purchase what is unobtainable or to eat what is inedible. The bulletin, it might be remarked, goes thoroughly into its subject, treating it in all its phases.

The loose-sleeved coat is an admirable addition to the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman. This model is cut from a very fine piece of navy blue serge. It shows the dropped armhole which insures comfort as well as preventing the crushing of the flimsy frock. Oblong bone buttons make a distinctive fastening, while the high collar emphasizes a new style note for Fall. The felt hat shows a feather trimming.

The most recent reports received by the Provincial Department of Agriculture from the fruit districts of British Columbia state that the apple crop will be 100 per cent. greater this year than last year. What One of the Best Known Travellers in Canada Says

"Now I am going to give you an unsolicited testimonial, as they say in the patent medicine advertising. Herebefore I have had a profound contempt for patent medicines, particularly so-called liniments. Perhaps this is due to the reason that I have been blessed with a sturdy constitution and had never been ill a day in my life. One day last fall after a hard day's tramp in the snows of Montreal, I developed a severe pain in my leg and, of course, like a man who has never had anything wrong with him physically, I complained, after a moment's rest, 'The good little wife says: "I will rub this with once I'm home." Well, in the comes with a bottle of Minard's Liniment and gets busy. Believe me the pain disappeared a few minutes after I used it. You can tell the world I said so."
